P.C.

1. Heard. Earlier, the grievances made in this petition were agitated by filing a public interest litigation, being PIL No. 66 of 2005. However, having found that there is no public interest involved in the petition, by order dated 19th July 2006 the petitioner was allowed to withdraw the said PIL. Thereafter the petitioner filed a Review Petition bearing No. 144 of 2006. By order dated 20th February 2007 the petitioner was allowed to withdraw the said review petition with a liberty to file a precise service petition. Thereafter the petitioner has filed the present petition. The petitioner is not seeking any relief for his individual grievance and he has already retired from the service. Therefore, the grievances which the petitioner desires to ventilate in this petition are of the other employees. However, since the public interest litigation has already been terminated as stated above, the present petition cannot be entertained. Petition is hereby rejected.
